POST OFFICE HOURS

It was announced today by Acting Postmaster Richard L. Wingfield that in service to patrons, the local post office will extend working hours to 4 P. M. on Saturday, until Christmas, instead of the regular closing hour of 1 P. M. It was also announced that the post office service lobby will be open from 2 to 4 P. M. on Sunday. This service will enable patrons on rural routs and areas to pick up packages on Saturday afternoon or Sunday afternoon, and thus expedite service. During these extra hours, all postal services will be rendered with the exception of money oders.

ELON BAPTIST CHURCH

"The Christmas Pageant of the Holy Grail," one of the most beautiful and dramatic of all presentations of the Christmas story, will be presented this Sunday evening at seven-thirty by the young people of Elon Baptist Church, Pamplin.

Written a number of years ago by Doctor W. Russell Bowie, it was first given in the chancel of St. Paul's Church, Richmond, Virginia, of which Dr. Bowie was then rector.

The scene is laid in the great hall of King Arthur and his knights who are moved by Arthur's dream to go forth in quest of the gifts that will bring again the vision of the Holy Grail.

ed U. S. Senator Harry Byrd, that there were attracted to the possibility that his son, State Senator H. F. Byrd, Jr., might be persuaded to make himself available for the Governorship next year. Certainly he is qualified, and we believe that he would make an excellent Governor.

Mr. Byrd has now announced he will not offer for Governor next year. The people of Virginia will accept his decision, of course. But the people of Virginia will want it understood that his ability and his knowledge of political affairs will be sought in future years.

All of which probably adds up to saying: "Ha seeing you in '65!"

FARMYARD LIGHTING IS GOOD INVESTMENT

Lighting the farmyard between the house and barns is a good investment in safety and convenience, says J. L. Calhoun, VPI Agricultural engineer.

Two main points are involved in planning such a system, according to Calhoun. These are the selection and location of the lights, and selection and location of switches.

A bracket fixture is commonly used for the lights. It consists of a reflector, socket, and bulb supported by a short piece of pipe. It can be mounted on a pole, or on the side of a building. The bracket fixture is designed to light a large circular area. With a reflector 16 inches in diameter and a 300-watt bulb, it will give enough light within 200 feet of the unit.

A bulb especially designed for outdoor lighting is called the "PAR" bulb. It has its own built-in reflector. It will not break when exposed to rain, sleet, or snow, because it is made of heat-resistant glass.

The PAR bulb is a good choice for lighting a long, narrow area, says Calhoun. Several of them on a centrally located pole will light a large circular area of the farmstead.

On many farms, switches are needed at the house, barn and garage. Wiring should be installed so lights can be turned on and off from any switch location.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The current Christmas Seal campaign of the Southside Tuberculosis Association, Farmville, Va., is running neck and neck with the contributions of last year.

Last week's total of $5,896.85, falls $20.85 behind last year's contributions of $5,917.70 through December 8.

Mrs. Emma G. Anthony, Executive Director of the Association, said today, "We are very pleased with the results thus far."

She noted that 18000 reminders went into the mail Friday, and that some people who have already responded to the association's plea will get reminders. She requests that the reminders be considered as thank you notes in cases where contributions have been made.

Thus far, contributions from Appomattox County have amounted to $444.
